

NEW-YORKISMS.

From Our Own Correspondent. NEW YORK, Sept. 24. James Flisk, Jr.'s New Paper. News for you. Mr. James Flisk, Jr., who runs cabs, theatres, opera-houses, steamboats, Sunday schools, and railroads, is getting out a newspaper. Having penetrated the mysteries of every other excitable field of action, he burns to know what it is to assume editorial responsibility. He has walked the planks of steamers in a commodore's outfit; he has ogled and been ogled from that glare; and obtrusive box at the Grand Opera House; he ran stumps up and down like a Wall Street Jupiter manufacturing and dispensing thunderbolts; he has provided free cabs, and talked of providing cheap steamboats; he has quarreled with Sabbath-school teachers and stage managers; the success of his "check" has been the object of the envy and detraction of all less successful men of like propensities, and now it is only natural that he should strive for one conquest more. That conquest is to be found only in newspaperdom. He longs to penetrate the secret of abuse, and probably we shall have flaming editorials of invective to which those of red-hot Brick Pomeroy will be but as frost and ice. This is no mere canard that I am repeating. Whether the newspaper ever appear or not, it is true that the project is now growing in the Fliskian brain. When and where it will appear, and by whom it will be edited, are questions yet to be answered. Its title even has not yet been decided upon. The Daily Fizzle would probably do as well as any other, and indicate with sufficient accuracy the quality of its success. It is understood, however, that a private telegraph is to extend from the editorial-room to the private box at the opera-house usually occupied by the big man. Intelligence from all parts of the world can thus be transmitted to him any moment between 8 and 12 P. M., without the necessity of his leaving the box, or scarcely turning his eyes from the stage. It would be interesting to learn whether the new paper (which, for all I know, may be one of several, all daily) is to have colored illustrations like the Western World. This would be useful in case of railroad accidents, even if it were possible to decide where the responsibility, or rather the Eric-son-ability, rested.

Wall Street Yesterday was in a high state of excitement. The Gold Clock, in Maiden Lane, between Broadway and Nassau, was surrounded by about four hundred people, eagerly watching its incessant variations. "What's the time of gold?" may be said to have been the question. The hand on the face of the indicator kept jumping about every thirty seconds. All this was caused by the report that Vanderbilt had "cornered" thirty millions. The main feature, however, connected with the astonishing fluctuations in gold will already have been made known to you by telegraph.

English and French Opera. The English opera troupe continues to attract excellent audiences. On Wednesday evening an amusing incident occurred while Parepa-Rosa was essaying the role of "Mariana" in the opera of that name. The "Marquis de Torrenueva," it will be remembered, having occasion to refer to his difficulty in recognizing "Mariana," explains that his hesitation arose from her having "grown so" during the interval since he last saw her. The appropriateness of the expression "grown so" to the "meaty" cantatrice (who was looking as lovely as so diminutive a creature could) was too appropriate to be lost. The house grinned from ear to ear—I should say from pit to gallery—and the reverberating smiles of the galleries were reflected upon Parepa's own countenance. The entire auditorium laughed and (Parepa) grew fat. It was a sweet and oily interchange of geniality. May that "grown so" never be cut in subsequent representations. As to the French opera, the first presentation on Wednesday night of La Juive was not a success. Without being a dead failure, it was a disappointment. People expected more. I understand that the best soprano of the troupe, Mad'le Euphemie Bleau, will make her first appearance to-morrow evening in Les Mousquetaires de la Reine. Of Madame Faye Fauschetti, who has hitherto undertaken the role of "Rachel" in La Juive, the best that can be said is that she is a second-class singer, whose voice has seen its best days. Before the conclusion of the second act it became painfully evident that it was much worn. As no puffery had preceded the arrival of the troupe, however, the critics have been reticent, with the exception, perhaps, of the censor of the World, who precipitates his complaints into very artistic crystals of criticism.

Yesterday morning the first rehearsal of Twelfth Night took place at Mr. Daly's theatre, the Fifth Avenue. Mrs. Scott-Siddons was the star. She arrived at this port a few days since, and will doubtless realize as much money from the American public as she did last year, when she refused to play Miranda for Mr. Tayleure under a salary of $1000 per week, and travelling expenses paid for herself and suite. But if Olive Logan got as much as that (as in her new book she avers she sometimes did), I think Mrs. Scott-Siddons may be pardoned for running away with our greenbacks. The latter lady at any rate has youth and beauty, and is not without a certain promise, however poor her present realizations of Shakespearean heroines may be.

On the Rampage. The fair revolutionists who contribute to Miss Anthony's paper, and constitute the pillars of the Woman's Suffrage Association, have found a new subject to quarrel over at their last meeting. This subject is talk. Mrs. Wilbour thought that too much "talk" had been indulged in already. She wanted the association to do something. Mrs. Bronson (who has only lately become anything of a shining light) thinks that after all women would not be able to do much if associated with men in politics. She thinks the men would get the upper hand and keep it, and convert the women merely into intriguing politicians. At this point Mrs. Stanton rose in well-tempered wrath—this lady never loses her temper, but sometimes lets it loose for a little while, like a bird with a string attached—announced her entire disagreement from her reckless sisters. Woman would purify the elections, she thought. Elizabeth Fry had purified prisons in her day, and there was no reason why the woman of the period should not elevate politics in hers. Mrs. Trowbridge here joined in and said that she entirely agreed with Medames Bronson and Wilbour in believing that "something" should be done, but refrained from specifying what the something should be. In fact, the association was for the time on the rampage. The tender point was touched. It is this unknown, unattainable something which is the great incubus. What sister is it that shall be the first to exclaim "Eureka!" and convulse women's-rightism with her solution of the riddle of the age?

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

Mr. Edwin Booth as "Shylock." Mr. Booth's present engagement promises to be one of the most brilliant that he has ever played in this city. The theatre has been filled to its utmost capacity every evening with fashionable audiences, and the warmest appreciation of Mr. Booth's efforts has been shown. Last evening The Merchant of Venice was performed with Mr. Booth as "Shylock." This is one of the best and most satisfactory of his personations, and yet in many respects it is one of his very best as an artistic study. His conception of the part is original and picturesque, his "make-up" excellent, and his acting in some of the dramatic scenes is entitled to the highest commendation. His voice, however, militates greatly against his success, and while the moral critics admirers of the drama will always hold Mr. Booth's "Shylock" in esteem for its intrinsic merits, it will never make the same impression as his previous personations as "Hamlet" or "Iago," the last named of which is, in our opinion, his best performance.

The American Conservatory of Music.—On last Wednesday afternoon, before one of the largest and most select Philadelphia audiences, the thirty-first matinee of the American Conservatory of Music took place. The programme for this occasion was very fine and complete. The overture to Mozart's "Il Seraglio" was played by the professors, and the Op. 10 of the orchestral department, and gave general satisfaction. The concerto in C minor, Op. 37, by Beethoven, for piano, with orchestral accompaniment, was executed by Professor John F. Hinnebach in excellent and effective style. The "Trambuller (Dream Pictures) Fantasia," by Lumbye, was performed by the members of the orchestral department with good taste, and produced a marked effect upon the audience. The first concerto, A minor, Op. 14, by Góttmann, for violin, with orchestral accompaniment, was played with the fine style and expression peculiar to Professor Hennig. The most remarkable performance of the afternoon, however, was the violin solo, consisting of two parts ("Variation" and "Capriccio") for the G string, only, by Paganini, and "La Cascade," by De Kotski, performed by Professor Wenzel J. Kopta, the brilliancy of whose execution took the audience completely by storm. The slinging by both professors and pupils was remarkable for correctness and accuracy. The whole performance was meritorious, and gave evidence of the great care bestowed in the general management of the Conservatory.

The City Amusements. AT THE WALNUT Mr. Edwin Booth will have a benefit this evening, when he will appear as "Claude Melnotte" in Bulwer's drama of The Lady of Lyons. The same bill will be repeated at a matinee to-morrow. AT THE CHESNUT the drama of The Marble Heart will be performed this evening. AT THE ARCH the regular season will commence to-morrow evening with the performance of Bulwer's comedy of Money. On Monday Boucicault's drama of Tornaou will be produced. AT THE ELEVENTH STREET OPERA HOUSE the minstrel troupe will appear this evening in an entertaining selection of negro eccentricities, songs, comic and sentimental, and a variety of other popular performances. —The Theatrical Guide, edited by Robert N. Renshaw, is the nearest and most attractive little sheet of its class that we have seen. It gives the nightly programme at the Chesnut Street Theatre and other places of amusement, and is distributed extensively in all hotels, music stores, and railroad cars. It is handsomely printed on fine paper, and its columns furnish an agreeable variety of light, gossip literature, suitable for reading between the acts. It gives all the latest theatrical news, and it is a pleasant souvenir of a performance for theatre-goers to carry home with them.

CITY ITEMS.

NEW FALL GOODS IN THE PIECE.—Choice assortment of new fall goods in the piece, up to order, 62 1/2 cent Yards, and Boys' Clothing. Satisfaction guaranteed in all respects. Prices lower than the lowest. Style, fit, and workmanship to be had. HALFWAY BETWEEN BENEY & CO., 515 Market St., Philadelphia, and 600 Broadway, New York.

EARLY CLOSET COMPANY'S patent dry earth comodes and privy-fixtures, at A. H. Francis & Co.'s, No. 513 Market Street. TOO TOO AN GOLD is considered a very ordinary, trifling affair, just as well left to go as it came, and hence systematically neglected, until a simple, curable affection is converted into a serious and generally fatal Pulmonary Disease. The more prudent, aware that a violent Cough or Cold should never be trifled with, but on the contrary taken care of from its inception, promptly make use of Dr. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT, a curative which has sustained its reputation for over thirty years as a remedy always efficacious, and sure to exert a most beneficial influence on all the Bronchial and Pulmonary organs. Sold by all Druggists.

CLOTHING EXHIBITION.—Messrs. Wanamaker & Brown held open house yesterday to the multitude, upon the opening of their fall trade. We were about to say at their establishment, Sixth and Market streets; but that does not express the locality. Market street has a goodly share of the buildings, while on Sixth street they loom up as far back as Minor street, and in a few years will doubtless assert their pre-eminence over the entire square. A fine band of music, playing delightful airs, caused a sensation in the neighborhood, and when persons approached to inquire the occasion of the novelty, they were courteously and politely informed that it was to inspect the premises. We undertook the task, but gave it up somewhat bewildered with the extent of the establishment and the immense amount of ready-made clothing. The counters and shelves were filled with every sort of fabric, made in all manner of styles and trimmed accordingly. The natty and fastidious young and the sterling mechanic, the aged and the young, could all be suited, no matter how varied their tastes, from some one of the heaping counters. What purchases we made, we made regularly in all of the details. Any sized coat, pants, or vest could be fixed upon at a moment's notice, and everybody seemed to know just where each number of garment was located. In the evening, the hundreds of gas-burners were lit, and a general illumination of the building was the result.

It is true there are about 300,000 resident men, youth, and boys to be clothed, saying nothing of the thousands who come from other cities and States, and it is only by this knowledge that we cannot account for the necessity of so much clothing. A delightful feature of the whole is to contemplate the vast number of men and women who are furnished with plenty of work, at good wages, by Messrs. Wanamaker & Brown.

KEEP THE BODY IN GOOD REPAIR.—It is much easier to keep the system in good condition than to restore it to that condition when shattered by disease. The "House of Life," like other houses, should be promptly propped up and sustained whenever it shows any sign of giving way. The first symptoms of physical debility should be taken as a hint that a stimulant is required. The next question is, "What shall the stimulant be?" A wholesome vegetable tonic, the stimulating properties of which are modified by the juices and extracts of anti-fetid and laxative roots and herbs—something which will regulate, soothe, and purify, as well as invigorate—is the medicine required by the debilitated. There are many preparations which are claimed to be of this description, but HOTTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the great vegetable preventive and restorative that has won its way to the confidence of the public and the medical profession by a quarter of a century of unvarying success, stands pre-eminently among them all. To expatiate on its popularity would be to repeat a twice-told tale. It is only necessary to consult the records of the United States Revenue Department to learn that its consumption is greater than that of any other proprietary remedy of either native or foreign origin. As a means of sustaining the health and strength under a fever temperature, the BITTERS have a paramount claim to consideration. It has the effect of fortifying and bracing the nervous and muscular systems against the ordinary consequences of sudden and violent changes of temperature, and is therefore peculiarly useful at this season, when hot sunbathing by day, and ice-cold food by night, alternately heat and chill the blood of those who are exposed to them. HOTTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are sold in bottles only. To avoid being deceived by counterfeiters, see that the name of the bottles is on the label, and embossed on the glass of the bottle, and our revenue stamp over the cork.

GET THE BEST.—The Parham Sew Family LOOK-MITCHEL SEWING MACHINE. (Easy Terms.) Salesrooms, No. 704 CHESTNUT STREET. ROLAND YORKE: A SQUEET TO "THE CHANGINGS."—T. B. Peterson Brothers have just issued, from the manuscript and advance proof sheets purchased from Mr. Wood at an expense of one hundred and fifty pounds sterling, in gold, Roland Yorke: A Squeet to "The Changings." It will be read with interest by all who delight in the marvellously and ingeniously constructed plots which are characteristic of this author's writings.

SINGING LESSONS.—Mr. A. R. Taylor, who has been practicing his profession successfully in Philadelphia for the last twenty years, and is, therefore, well known to our citizens, will open his Academy, at No. 812 Arch street, on Monday next, the 27th instant. His arrangements for classes are very liberal, and his repertoire embraces Glee, Madrigals, Operatic Choruses, and Church Music. In addition to the exercises at his Academy, Mr. T. gives private lessons, either at his own residence or those of his pupils, and also instructs classes in schools and academies. He refers with confidence to those who have been heretofore taught by him, and requests applicants to address him either at No. 812 Arch street or at No. 1207 Filbert street.

FINANCIAL. THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS OF THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD CO. INTEREST 6 PER CENT. IN GOLD. The Union Pacific Railroad has been in successful operation since May 10, and it is pronounced, by the thousands who have passed over it, to be in all respects as safe and well built as any railroad in the country. By the Pullman Palace Cars the journey is not only made without danger, but without unusual fatigue. The fears that many have expressed in relation to the perils of the overland trip are removed by experience, and the travel is steadily increasing. The earnings of the road since its opening are officially stated by the Company as follows: From May 10 to May 31, $31,430.12 " June 1 to June 30, 706,022.29 " July 1 to July 31, 623,629.96 Notwithstanding the rates for passengers and freight have been largely reduced, the earnings for August will be about the same average. They will be published as soon as full returns are received. The earnings, as stated above, are at an average of about Eight Million Dollars a Year, Which will be steadily augmented by the development of the Pacific Coast, by settlement along the line, and by a steady increase of traffic. The First Mortgage Bonds of the Company amount to $23,816,000, and the interest liability to $1,728,900, gold, or about $2,334,000 in currency. It will be noticed that the present earnings provide an ample fund for the payment of this interest and leave a large surplus. We are also satisfied that, at present market rates, these bonds are a very desirable investment, and that they will advance in price as soon as the facts concerning the business and condition of the Company are generally understood.

The Land Grant Bonds To the amount of Ten Million Dollars, were issued to obtain means to finish the road, and are secured by A FIRST MORTGAGE Upon the entire Land Grant of the Company, amounting to 13,821,000 acres. Three million acres of this land in the Platte Valley, in Nebraska, are admitted to be equal to any in the West. The sales of land were opened in Omaha July 27, and 40,000 acres were sold during a month thereafter, at an average price of over $5.00 per acre. While a part of the remainder of the land is of little value for agricultural purposes, there is another part from which a considerable sum will be realized. The value of the Land Grant is largely enhanced by the extensive coal mines, which are now being worked for the supply of the surrounding country, as well as for the railroad, and by other valuable mineral deposits, especially of copper.

THE LAND GRANT BONDS ARE RECEIVED IN PAYMENT for all the company's bonds, at par, and the demand from actual settlers will give them a certain market. They run twenty years and pay seven per cent. interest in currency. Although the Company have disposed of all their bonds yet, as they are offered in market, we continue to fill orders at the current market rates. We have no hesitation in recommending both the First Mortgage and the Land Grant Bonds as a very valuable and perfectly safe investment.

FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFE HERRING'S CHAMPION SAFES. THE BURNING OF EARLES' ART GALLERY. PHILADELPHIA, September 1, 1899. MESSRS. FARREL, HERRING & CO., No. 629 CHESTNUT Street. Gentlemen.—We have just examined, with the very greatest satisfaction, our safe, purchased of you some years ago, and which passed through our destructive fire of last night. We find the contents, without exception, entirely unharmed, merely slightly damp, and we feel now in a condition to commence our business again, having every book perfectly safe. We shall in a few days require a larger one, and will call upon you. Very respectfully, JAMES S. EARLE & SONS.

FARREL, HERRING & CO., No. 629 CHESTNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA. CHAMPION SAFES. PHILADELPHIA, August 27, 1899. MESSRS. FARREL, HERRING & CO. Gentlemen.—In the year 1866 I unfortunately was in business in the Artisan Building, which was destroyed by fire on the 10th of April. I had then in my safe a large quantity of business papers, and use what I supposed was a Fire-Proof safe, but upon opening it I found everything destroyed, and fire burning therein. You will recollect, gentlemen, there was several of your safes in that fire, also several in the fire at Sixth and Commerce streets, the next May, five weeks afterwards, all of which upon being opened, proved they were fire-proof indeed, for I witnessed the opening of the most of them, and in every case the contents were preserved, while Safes of other makers were partially or entirely destroyed. I at once concluded to have something that I could depend upon, and purchased one of your Safes. The safe I purchased of you at that time was subjected to a white heat, which was witnessed by several gentlemen who reside in the neighborhood, and the destruction of my Marble Paper factory, 924 Wallace street, on the afternoon and evening of the 24th inst. After digging the safe from the ruins, and opening it this morning, I was much pleased to find everything, consisting of books, papers, money and silverware, all right. I shall want another of your safes as soon as I can get a place to continue my business in. I could not rest contented with any other make of safes. CHARLES WILLIAMS, Marble Paper Manufacturer.
